Karol's story is a powerful, emotional story that demonstrates the value of itslearning to meet the demands of Universal Design for Learning (UDL) to allow students to communicate mastery on their own terms and build confidence. Through itslearning and UDL, Karol, a selective mute, found her voice and began confidently communicating with staff, peers, and the community.